Outstanding health management: Wilo receives Corporate Health Award 2024

Winner in the "Mechanical engineering – Large company or group" category

Dortmund/Bonn. Wilo's corporate health management at its headquarters in Dortmund has been honoured with the prestigious Corporate Health Award. The multinational group took first place in the "Mechanical engineering – Large company or group" category.

"We are proud to have won first place at the Corporate Health Award, as it recognises our holistic corporate health management and the excellent health care we offer at our workplace. Occupational health and safety play a central role in our corporate culture and are firmly established in the Wilo Group's sustainability strategy", explains Oliver Hermes, President & CEO of the Wilo Group. "We set great store by sound body and mind and promote the health and well-being of our employees with preventive measures."

"Our individualised offering, which fosters awareness of health in the workplace, demonstrates just how seriously we take this claim. It enables us to recognise health risks at an early stage and actively counteract them", adds Georg Weber, Executive Board Member and CTO of the Wilo Group, who accepted the award together with Andrea Arnold, Group Director Corporate Health Management of the Wilo Group. Andrea Arnold emphasises: "Our services go far beyond statutory stipulations. Our holistic approach aims to offer measures that promote both the physical and mental health of our employees."

The Corporate Health Award honours excellent company health management in Germany every year. The initiators are EuPD Research and the newspaper Handelsblatt. The award has been presented since 2009.
